INCREASE IN IMPORTS

From 12,500 Head in 1907 It Grew to 222,000 Last Year—Urnguay Raises Cattle at One-Fourth Cost Here.

(By Van Cleve).

Washington, D. C. May 5.—The Underwood tariff bill, now under consideration, will soon have left the house and entered upon its way through the senate. That it is destined to a more or less stormy voyage there, is clear and the chances are that when it comes back to the house it will have been modified in many respects. It will pass the house substantially, as it came from the committee on ways and means. It will then go to the senate, where its consideration is expected to consume at least six weeks or until the first of July. If it is amended there to any considerable extent, as now seems probable, it will then have to go to conference and upon the time necessary for the two houses to agree upon a final bill the length of this session will depend.

Representative Kent of California, a progressive Republican, contributed some interesting observations on the cattle and meat supply last week. He is a large dealer in cattle in California and sells about seventeen thousand head per year. Unlike most of the Republicans, instead of asking for a higher tariff on cattle, he moved to put them on the free list in the interest of the millions of meat consumers. Here is what he said:

"To my mind the Democratic Ways and Means Committee made a serious mistake in not putting cattle on the free list, and I am going to move to amend the bill to that effect. Our pasturage in this country is well taken up today. We all know, if we are experienced in the cattle-raising business, that in most parts of the country it is a great expense to carry the breeding cow through the winter. This is one of the heaviest costs in raising cattle. Northern Mexico is a wonderful place for cheaply producing calves and young cattle. They can there be started much cheaper than in most parts of this country, and provided they can be taken out and brought to a northern climate where they will make good growth the result is a great cheapening of our meat supply.

"The difference between a 3-year-old steer in Arizona, New Mexico, or Mexico and his brother sent north as a yearling is at least 300 pounds. Therefore, as a citizen hoping for a more adequate meat supply, I believe in free cattle, and as a cattle raiser and cattle breeder, I am in no fear of damage to my business or the wages of my employees from free cattle.

"We have had a lot of mininformation in thishouse concerning the packers. For twenty-five years I have been up against the Chicago packers. I know what they have taken that did not belong to them, and how much they have taken that did not belong to them, but today they have a very small influence on the cost of the best meat. Their charges for handling a standard steer are, I believe, less than $3, possibly a little over $2. That on an animal that is worth $110 is a small percentage. This talk of the farmer being wrecked and ruined by the advent of free meat from Argentina and other places is the veriest nonsense.

"The proof of that is in Panama, where Colonel Wilson, living in a free-trade market, where he can get Argentine meat, prefers to stock his commissary with the more expensive corn-fed cattle of the Middle West, as it is better stuff and can be handled without much waste. He furnishes the best porterhouse steak at 20 cents a pound, and he gets rid of all unconscionable distributing charges that are common in the butcher shops throughout the country. I do not blame the butcher; he is not getting rich; he is wasting too much and he is paying out money in rent and all sorts of delivery charges. The great trouble with us today is this waste in distribution.

"I am selling upward of 5,000 corn-fed cattle a year and a good many grass cattle. I wish to state frankly that I am not afraid of the influx of cattle as beef from other countries. It is not going to hurt anybody or do anyone much good. The world demand for meat is greater than the supply. I have in my office the statement of a great concern in England which handles frozen meat; this statement shows that our American export has dropped off to almost a negligible quantity. Almost every country in Europe is trying to import frozen meat. It is being kept out of France by ridiculous agrarian legislation. Even Switzerland is importing meat. Meat is a luxury and always will be. It will never be cheap again, and beef is the most costly of meats. It is our obvious duty to conserve the grass and to study cheaper methods of feeding that we may produce as reasonably as possible.

"A mere statement of costs of feeding shows the extravagant nature of beef as a human food.

"It takes fifty-six pounds of corn to make four pounds of beef with two pounds of pork as a by-product. With high-priced land we can not produce corn-fed beef at prices below what means luxury. We ought to save in the cost of the calf; we must mature our meat more cheaply. There is no sense nor logic in a duty on cattle. There is no danger to anyone in free meat or untaxed imports of live cattle."

That the day of cheap meat is past, tariff or no tariff, is also borne out in a statement given out a few days ago by Secretary of Commerce Redfield:

"In the face of an increasing population during the six years just passed there has been a decrease in the number of beef cattle in the United States. Also there have been great decreases in the amount of beef and cattle exported from the United States, and large increases in the importations. Prices for the American product have been higher than those in any other country."

The statistics given out by the secretary of commerce are for the nine years ending March 31 of each of the years from 1907 to 1913. The exports of fresh beef decreased from 200,000,000 pounds in 1907 to 5,500,000 pounds in 1913, and those of cattle from 308,000 head to less than 14,000. The figures also show that the 461,000,000 pounds of frozen beef imported into the United Kingdom in the calendar year of 1912, in round numbers, the United States furnished only 206,000 pounds, against 305,000,000 from New Zealand, 23,500,000 from Uruguay and 2,900,000 from other countries. The United States furnished only a very small proportion of chilled beef imported into the United Kingdom during 1912.

It is further pointed out that the increase in population in the United States from 1907 to 1913 was 11 per cent, accompanied by a decrease in the number of beef cattle in this country during the same period of 30 per cent. Remarkable increases have been shown in the importations of beef cattle. Starting in 1907 with 12,500, each year shows an increase, until for 1912 the number was 222,000 head.

The United States, according to the figures, exported only 9,000,000 pounds of fresh beef during the last year, as compared with Argentina's 756,000,000 pounds. As to the prices, the figures show that the average obtained by the United States was 11.67 cents per pound; Argentina, 4.38 cents; Uruguay 2.81 cents; Australia, 4.93 cents; New Zealand, 5.26 cents, and Canada, 9.13 cents.

Will Return to Maryville.

W. H. Frazee and family, who moved to Kansas City several months ago, will return to Maryville next week. Mr. Frazee was in Maryville this week to regain possession of his residence on South Dewey street and will return to Maryville with his family the first of the week. He was accompained to Kansas City by his niece, Miss Rose Frazee, who will visit them a few days.

Mrs. James Enis of Clyde attended the St. Patrick's entertainment in Maryville Thursday night. She was the guest of her sister, Mrs. T. J. Parle.

Wm. Graham of Clyde and Phil Growney of Conception Junction attended the entertainment at the Empire theater, given by the children of St. Patrick's school.

Mrs. M. Peterson and children of Kansas City, who have been visiting Mrs. S. Woodard, returned home Thursday.

WILL COME BACK

INSURANCE COMPANIES TO RESUME BUSINESSS IN STATE.

RESULT OE CONFERENCE

Ex-Gov. Folk Instrumental in Settling Difference Between State Officials and Company Advisors.

The fire insurance companies will not quit the state, according to an understanding reached Thursday at Jefferson City. The following dispatch from that city says:

Judge Thomas Bates of Chicago, attorney for the fire insurance companies which had threatened to withdraw from the state as a result of the recently enacted anti-trust law, will advise the companies to remain in the state, and Attorney General Barker will then dismiss the suits filed against them.

This was the understanding reached late Thursday afternoon after protracted conferences between Judge Bates, Gov. Major, Gen. Barker, Superintendent Insurance Revelle, and former Gov. Joseph W. Folk, representing St. Louis business interests.

Attorney General Barker said:

"I am willing to notify the insurance agents throughout the state and the public that actuarial bureaus may be established and that the mere fact that any two companies or more use the same rate or rate sheet is no violation of the law. All prosecuting attorneys of the state will be notified to the same effect, and instructed that no prosecution shall be instituted against the companies on this account, and if any prosecution is instituted contrary to my opinion, I will direct a dismissal of the same."

The companies must return to the state before the case in the supreme court is submitted by Barker, which will be in twenty days.

It is believed now that the controversy between the state officials and the 185 fire insurance companies, cited to appear in the supreme court to answer charges of having violated the anti-trust laws, is at an end. The companies are expected to return to business in Missouri within the next ten days.

Former Gov. Joseph W. Folk is the medium, apparently, who has brought about an understanding between the companies and the state officials. He was selected by the business men of St. oLuis to look after the interests of the insured of that city.

AFTER AN INTERURBAN.

Stanberry Wants Line to St. Joseph—Savannah Line Will Be Extended to Maryville?

Stanberry and Empire City are after an interurban line to St. Joseph and these towns have indicated that those parties benefited will contribute a right-of-way and free terminal facilities at Stanberry. Stanberry and Empire City want the route to be laid out so as to take in Avenue City, Rochester, Flag Springs and Empire Prairie along the old Butler route, surveyed several years ago, and from Empire Prairie to Stanberry along whatever route seems most practicable.

In addition to this line, the street railway company at St. Joseph is talking of extending the present line to Savannah through Fillmore and as far as Maryville and Tarkio. When Frank Freuhoff of the Doherty company which owns the St. Joseph street railway, was in that city recently, he said he believed the extension of the Savannah line was only a matter of time and that his company favored running the line as far as Maryville or Tarkio, instead of stopping it at Fillmore as originally discussed.

Miss Mary Fordyce went to Pierce City, Mo., but will stop at Barnard and to her sister, Mrs. Dora Seifert.

A GREAT ENTERTAINMENT.

Closing Program of St. Patrick's Parish School Most Elaborate of the Kind Given Here.

The Sisters of St. Patrick's parish school, who arranged the program and drilled the children and young people who gave the entertainment at the Empire theater Thursday night, which marked the closing of the school year, may well feel proud of its result. It was the most elaborate school program that has been presented here.

Nearly every seat in the theater was occupied and the hearty applause that greeted the performance of the children was abundant evidence of satisfaction on the part of the audience.

The program, as it appeared in last Saturday's Daily Democrat-Forum was given in that order. It would be impossible to go through and tell all the good things about each number and how well each performed his part from the oldest to the least little tot, without taking up a whole page of the Democrat-Forum, for each deserved special mention.

The boys' Merry-Making minstrels have put the Elks' minstrels forever in the shade, unless the Elks wake up and get a decided hustle on themselves. And those little Irish paddies were without doubt the cutest things ever, unless it was those darling little girls in motion song, "I'd Like to Be Like Grandma," and those charming little milkmaids in "The Golden Slipper," and the lovely girls in the sash drill, and—oh, well, there is simply no place to stop when once you begin to tell about it.

One hundred little children and young people had places on the program, and the costuming for the various things presented, many appearing in three different costumes, were excellently appropriate and gracefully worn, and the part decidedly well taken.

Good musical talent was displayed in all the piano selections, and there were several pieces of high merit.

The playing of the little operetta, "The Golden Slipper," pleased everyone, the part taken by little Miss Lucile Cummins being especially difficult and meritorious. Every character in "The Golden Slipper" was presented so well that expressions of surprise and pleasure were heard from everyone.

SOLD OUT INTEREST.

Del Davidson disposed of his interest in the Sweitzer & Davidson cigar factory and smoke shop to his partner, C. Sweitzer, who took possession Friday. Mr. Davidson has been at Greeley, Colo., for the past several months and intends to locate there and will engage in the cigar business. He came to Maryville Thursday and left Friday for Braddyville, Ia., where he will visit his parents a few days and will then return to Greeley. Mrs. Davidson also returned with Mr. Davidson and is now visiting her parents at Tarkio.

BUSINESS IS GROWING

Factory Has Given Employment to Large Number of Women and Wants Still More.

The McDonald garment factory of this city would like to double their capacity and is greatly in need of fifty more girls. At the present time, the factory has about fifty in their employ.

The garment factory has given profitable employment to a large number of young women in Maryville for several years and the weekly pay roll of these young women is quite a factor in Maryville business life. The work is remunerative and is not overtaxing, as is easily seen by the generally strong, happy and presperous appearance of all who are employed there. That the capacity of the factory is to be doubled is a good indication that the young women who are employed in this busy place are making the establishment one of the strongest business institutions in our city, for such it has proven to be.

THE CHINCH BUG.

Now is Not the Time to Save the Wheat From the Bug—How to Control Them.

In a bulletin issued by L. Hasemen of the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station, he says:

"Now is not the time to save the wheat from the chinch bug. Last summer when the bugs moved from the ripe wheat to the corn was the time for the first stroke, and if that had been followed by burning in the winter when the bugs were collected in their winter quarters, the wheat and corn crops would be safe from chinch bug damage this year. Wheat fields badly infested at this time will produce but little, if any, wheat, and in many cases stock might as well be turned in and make use of it for pasture.

"There is a parasitic plant which attacks and destroys the bug. This is what produces the well known "cinch bug disease," and when weather and moisture conditions are just right it works like a charm, but seldom in time to save the wheat. The spores of this disease are always present in every soil. As soon as weather conditions become just right the disease will start up and make quick work of the chinch bugs. With the first change in the weather, however, the disease will die out as suddenly as it started and the chinch bug is safe. There is absolutely no use of distributing diseased bugs because as soon as they are turned out in the open the disease disappears, except under the proper weather conditions, and if the weather conditions are right for the disease, there is no need of distributing it, for it is already present. For this reason the state government workers no longer send out diseased bugs, having found out that it is simply a waste of energy.

"At this late date the best we can do is to prepare to save the crops of next year. Clip out the following cautions and paste "Caution No. 1" in your calendar at the end of the month of June or the first of July and "Caution No. 2" on the November or December page.

"Caution No. 1. The bugs will crawl from the wheat fields into corn about the first of July. Be prepared to use a dust strip, or ditch and log, as a barrier, and in case of rain, run a line of tar or road oil in front of them as a barrier. Find out at once where and how long it will take to get the tar or oil. This will save the corn and help much to save next year's crops.

"Caution No. 2. Next winter after the first heavy freezes the bugs will be found collected in woods, fence rows, scattered straw, and more especially in pastures and waste lands overgrown with heavy grasses and weeds. Select a warm, dry day when the wind is low and burn over such places. Join with your neighbors; it is too big a job for one man to attempt. The Missouri College of Agriculture, Columbia, Mo., will be glad to supply information as to the methods employed during the summer and fall in fighting the chinch bug."

Getting the Most Out of Life

TIME used to be when the farmer disliked the automobile and did his best to discourage its use.

Today more automobiles are bought by farmers than any other single class.

Overland Model 69T
Price $985 F. O. B. Factory

It was found that the automobile encourages farming, because it brings the city and the country closer together. It keeps the boys on the farm.

It enables the farmer to inspect larger areas of producing land.

He transports his seeds and plants more quickly than before; he superintends the work of his farmhands when his time used to be occupied elsewhere.

The automobile allows the use of the horses for other work. When the horses are exhausted, the automobile is ready for further duty. Perhaps in a pleasure way.

Trips to the town stores, which formerly occupied a day, become a matter of a few hours.

Cattle raisers, rice and cotton growers, fruit producers and grain farmers evrywhere use the automobile thereby secure advantages that they could not forego ever once having enjoyed them.

In any other agency the automobile helps the whole family to get the most out of life, to see more within a given time. And, therefore, to get more of them than it costs.

Come and take a look at it—take a ride, if you have already bought one. Compare it and draw your own conclusions. That's fair.

Penelope Club Meeting.

The meeting of the Penelope club Wednesday afternoon was one of unusual interest, for at its close th approaching marriage of one of its members, Miss Lora Stockton, was announced by the club president, Mrs. Gallatin Craig. This was really the first announcement made of Miss Stockton's engagement, and it was appropriate that it should be done by the Penelope, as both the bride-to-be and her grandmother, Mrs. S. H. Townsend, are members of the club. The club held its meeting with Mrs. R. S. Braniger, who was assisted during the social hour by Mrs. J. M. Smith, Mrs. J. D. Ford, Mrs. Hal Catterson and Mrs. John Price. The other members present were Miss Lora Stockton, Miss Charlotte Murrin, Mrs. Frank Bolin, Mrs. J. E. Melvin, Mrs. R. H. Duncan, Mrs. John Herron, Mrs. S. J. DeArmond, Mrs. James F. Cook, Mrs. N. F. Hopper, Mrs. Gallatin Craig, Mrs. O. L. Holmes.

Married by Reverend Royston.

At the home of the bride in St. Joseph on May 7 occured the marriage of Miss Oral Duke to Gilbert Ross Babcock. The couple met Rev. W. E. Royston of Barnard at the Francis Street depot and the early morning hours were passed automobiling about the city. At high noon, Reverend Royston tied the nuptial knot in the presence of the bride's father and several friends, after which the party was taken by way of automobile to one of the finest cafes of the city, where a most sumptuous outspread of everything good to eat was enjoyed by all. The afternoon hours were spent in visiting parks and automobiling about the city. Miss Duke is the daughter of Mr. A. L. Duke, her mother having dide March 27. Mr. Babcock is a very worthy young man of splendid character. Miss Duke was formerly of Arkoe, where she resided until her parents moved to St. Joseph about five years ago.

How Many Tons of Rain?

According to the Skidmore New Era, Theo. Gwinn's rain gauge shows two and one-fourth inches of rain on last Friday and Saturday and he has figured out what that amount of rain meant in gallons or pounds on one acre of ground. Mr. Gwinn says:

"One acre contains 160 square rods, or 43,560 square feet, reduced to square inches and then multiplied by two and one-fourth will give 14,112,440 cubic inches, which if divided by 231, the number of cubic inches in one gallon, would be 61,097 gallons. Multiply this by eight, the number of pounds in one gallon, and you will have 488,776 pounds, or nearly 245 tons of water on one acre." It is surprising, isn't it? But a little figuring will show you that an ordinary rainfall means a whole lot of water on one acre of ground.

FASCINATING HAIR.

Easy to Stop Hair Falling Out, and Dandruff Also.

No one doubts that it is the duty of every woman to look as charming as possible. Every woman knows why she wants to be beautiful and attractive.

A woman with scant hair, dull and lifeless, has lost half her charm. How many times have we heard the expression "the crowning glory of a woman is her hair."

Nowadays, thanks to Parisian Sage, almost every woman can have hair so radiant and so glorious that it attracts, fascinates and compels admiration.

Parisian Sage, the scientific and ideal hair rejuvenator and tonic, will cause hair to grow. It will turn harsh, withered hair into lustrous and bewitching luxuriant hair in a few days.

It is a most delightful hair dressing that kills the dandruff germs, stops falling hair, and eradicates dandruff in two weeks, or your money back.

SEE and TRY a DE LAVAL Cream Separator

We do not believe that a farmer who knows anything about farm machinery could be induced to buy any separator other than a De Laval after he had seen the latest improved De Laval machine and had given it a trial.

It is a fact that 99% of all separator buyers who do SEE and TRY a DE LAVAL machine before buying, purchase the DE LAVAL and will have no other. The 1% who do not buy the DE LAVAL are those who allow themselves to be influenced by some other consideration besides real genuine separator merit.

If you are thinking about buying a cream separator we will consider it a favor if you will permit us to set up a De Laval for you on your own place and have you give it a fair trial.

You will be under no obligation to buy the machine if it does not make good all our claims, and should you decide to keep it and cannot conveniently pay cash, you may do so on such easy terms that it will actually save its cost while you are paying for it.

HOUSE PASSES TARIFF BILL

Underwood Revenue Measure Carries by Vote of 281 to 139.

EFFORTS TO AMEND FUTILE.

Minority Carries on Its Opposition to the Last—Fight Shifts to Upper Chamber—Little Prospect of Final Action Before August First.

Washington, May 9.—The Underwood tariff bill, proclaimed by the Democratic party as the answer to its platform pledge to revise the tariff downward, was passed by the house. The vote was 281 to 139, five Democrats voting against the bill and two Republicans voting for it. Four Progressives supported the measure and fourteen opposed it, while one independent Progressive joined with the majority.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote in loud tones that revealed his satisfaction, exuberant Democrats hoisted a stuffed donkey over the heads of their colleagues in the rear of the chamber. A faint ripple of applause followed and the gavel fell on the first chapter in the history of President Wilson's extra session of congress.

With the bill on its way to the senate, there was a rush of representatives for their homes. In the house adjournment will be taken at a time beginning next week until June 1.

Fight Bill to Last.

Republicans and Progressives, led by Mann and Murdock, protested to the last against the measure, the lowest tariff bill ever written.

Republicans who voted for the bill were Cary and Stafford of Wisconsin. Democrats who opposed it were Broussard, Dupre, Lazaro and Morgan of Louisiana and C. B. Smith of New York. Progressives who voted for the bill were Kelly and Rupley of Pennsylvania, Nolan of California and Bryan of Washington. Kent of California, formerly a Republican, but now an independent Progressive, also voted for the bill. Progressive Leader Murdock and thirteen of his Progressive followers voted with the minority.

The Nebraska delegation split squarely, the Democrats voting for the measure and the Republicans against. Iowa came along with the same condition with South Dakota and Wyoming voting solidly against the measure.

Today the tariff fight shifts from the house, with its overwhelming Democratic majority, to the senate, where the party's slim majority of six already has been reduced, as far as this bill is concerned, to four. Unless senators familiar with the progress of such legislation are mistaken there is now little prospect of a final vote on the bill before Aug. 1.

The bill's passage through the senate will be fought at every step by a Republican organization. Leaders of the Democrats in the senate finance committee, which will handle the bill, expressed the belief that it would go through in practically the same form as it passed the house and that their small majority will stand firm to the last.

Democratic leaders acknowledge that the two senators from Louisiana will not accept the sugar schedule and that they might be willing to combine with others to defeat the whole bill.

Republicans who are interested in beating the bill and who have canvassed those Democrats who looked at all doubtful agreed that they had but little hope of success and that with the exception of two senators from Louisiana they cannot count upon a single vote.

Senator Smoot will offer amendments to every schedule in the bill.

MOORE DENIES HE IS SLAYER

Alleged Murderer of Twenty-five With Axe Asserts Innocence.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 9.—Henry Lee Moore, convicted in Columbia several months ago of having killed his mother and grandmother with an axe, and who now is serving a ninety-nine-year sentence in the prison here, denies that he ever killed any one in his life.

He denied all knowledge of any families that were killed with an axe in Iowa, Kansas and Colorado.

It is evidenced that most of his life was spent in Missouri. He admits having worked for a farmer in Iowa several years ago, but says the farmer and his wife are living. Moore was living at Moberly, Mo., when accused of the murder of his relatives in Columbia.

MRS. WM. ARCHER

Tells Mothers What to Do for Delicate Children.

"My fourteen-year-old daughter was very thin and delicate. She had a bad cough so that I became very much alarmed about her health. She was nervous and did not sleep well, had very little appetite and doctors did not help her. Having heard so much about Vinol, I decided to give it a trial. It has helped her wonderfully. She can sleep all night now without coughing once, in fact her cough is gone. Her appetite is greatly improved and she has gained in weight. Vinol is a wonderful medicine and I will always keep it in the house. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children."—Mrs. Wm. Archer, Long Branch, N. J.

This delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil is a wonderful body builder and strength creator for both young and old. We promise to give back your money in every such case where Vinol does not benefit. This shows our faith in Vinol.—Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

INCREASE IN IMPORTS

From 12,500 Head in 1907 It Grew to 222,000 Last Year—Uruguay Raises Cattle at One-Fourth Cost Here.

(By Van Cleve).

Washington, D. C. May 5.—The Underwood tariff bill, now under consideration, will soon have left the house and entered upon its way through the senate. That it is destined to a more or less stormy voyage there, is clear and the chances are that when it comes back to the house it will have been modified in many respects. It will pass the house substantially, as it came from the committee on ways and means. It will then go to the senate, where its consideration is expected to consume at least six weeks or until the first of July. If it is amended there to any considerable extent, as now seems probable, it will then have to go to conference and upon the time necessary for the two houses to agree upon a final bill the length of this session will depend.

Representative Kent of California, a progressive Republican, contributed some interesting observations on the cattle and meat supply last week. He is a large dealer in cattle in California and sells about seventeen thousand head per year. Unlike most of the Republicans, instead of asking for a higher tariff on cattle, he moved to put them on the free list in the interest of the millions of meat consumers. Here is what he said:

"To my mind the Democratic Ways and Means Committee made a serious mistake in not putting cattle on the free list, and I am going to move to amend the bill to that effect. Our pasturage in this country is well taken up today. We all know, if we are experienced in the cattle-raising business, that in most parts of the country it is a great expense to carry the breeding cow through the winter. This is one of the heaviest costs in raising cattle. Northern Mexico is a wonderful place for cheaply producing calves and young cattle. They can there be started much cheaper than in most parts of this country, and provideu they can be taken out and brought to a northern climate where they will make good growth the result is a great cheapening of our meat supply.

"The difference between a 3-year-old steer in Arizona, New Mexico, or Mexico and his brother sent north as a yearling is at least 300 pounds. Therefore, as a citizen hoping for a more adequate meat supply, I believe in free cattle, and as a cattle raiser and cattle breeder, I am in no fear of damage to my business or the wages of my employees from free cattle.

"We have had a lot of mininformation in thishouse concerning the packers. For twenty-five years I have been up against the Chicago packers. I know what they have taken that did not belong to them, and how much they have taken that did not belong to them, but today they have a very small influence on the cost of the best meat. Their charges for handling a standard steer are, I believe, less than $3, possibly a little over $2. That on an animal that is worth $110 is a small percentage. This talk of the farmer being wrecked and ruined by the advent of free meat from Argentina and other places is the veriest nonsense.

"The proof of that is in Panama, where Colonel Wilson, living in a free-trade market, where he can get Argentine meat, prefers to stock his commissary with the more expensive corn-fed cattle of the Middle West, as it is better stuff and can be handled without much waste. He furnishes the best porterhouse steak at 20 cents a pound, and he gets rid of all unconscionable distributing charges that are common in the butcher shops throughout the country. I do not blame the butcher; he is not getting rich; he is wasting too much and he is paying out money in rent and all sorts of delivery charges. The great trouble with us today is this waste in distribution.

"I am selling upward of 5,000 corn-fed cattle a year and a good many grass cattle. I wish to state frankly that I am not afraid of the influx of cattle as beef from other countries. It is not going to hurt anybody or do anyone much good. The world demand for meat is greater than the supply. I have in my office the statement of a great concern in England which handles frozen meat; this statement shows that our American export has dropped off to almost a negligible quantity. Almost every country in Europe is trying to import frozen meat. It is being kept out of France by ridiculous agrarian legislation. Even Switzerland is importing meat. Meat is a luxury and always will be. It will never be cheap again, and beef is the most costly of meats. It is our obvious duty to conserve the grass and to study cheaper methods of feeding that we may produce as reasonably as possible.

"A mere statement of costs of feeding shows the extravagant nature of beef as a human food.

"It takes fifty-six pounds of corn to make four pounds of beef with two pounds of pork as a by-product. With high-priced land we can not produce corn-fed beef at prices below what means luxury. We ought to save in the cost of the calf; we must mature our meat more cheaply. There is no sense nor logic in a duty on cattle. There is no danger to anyone in free meat or untaxed imports of live cattle."

That the day of cheap meat is past, tariff or no tariff, is also borne out in a statement given out a few days ago by Secretary of Commerce Redfield:

"In the face of an increasing population during the six years just passed there has been a decrease in the number of beef cattle in the United States. Also there have been great decreases in the amount of beef and cattle exported from the United States, and large increases in the importations. Prices for the American product have been higher than those in any other country."

The statistics given out by the secretary of commerce are for the nine years ending March 31 of each of the years from 1907 to 1913. The exports of fresh beef decreased from 200,000,000 pounds in 1907 to 5,500,000 pounds in 1913, and those of cattle from 308,000 head to less than 14,000. The figures also show that the 461,000,000 pounds of frozen beef imported into the United Kingdom in the calendar year of 1912, in round numbers, the United States furnished only 206,000 pounds, against 305,000,000 from New Zealand, 23,500,000 from Uruguay and 2,900,000 from other countries. The United States furnished only a very small proportion of chilled beef imported into the United Kingdom during 1912.

It is further pointed out that the increase in population in the United States from 1907 to 1913 was 11 per cent, accompanied by a decrease in the number of beef cattle in this country during the same period of 30 per cent. Remarkable increases have been shown in the importations of beef cattle. Starting in 1907 with 12,500, each year shows an increase, until for 1912 the number was 222,000 head.

The United States, according to the figures, exported only 9,000,000 pounds of fresh beef during the last year, as compared with Argentina's 756,000,000 pounds. As to the prices, the figures show that the average obtained by the United States was 11.67 cents per pound; Argentina, 4.38 cents; Uruguay 2.81 cents; Australia, 4.93 cents; New Zealand, 5.26 cents, and Canada, 9.13 cents.

Will Return to Maryville.

W. H. Frazee and family, who moved to Kansas City several months ago, will return to Maryville next week. Mr. Frazee was in Maryville this week to regain possession of his residence on South Dewey street and will return to Maryville with his family the first of the week. He was accompained to Kansas City by his niece, Miss Rose Frazee, who will visit them a few days.

Wm. Graham of Clyde and Phil Growney of Conception Junction attended the entertainment at the Empire theater, given by the children of St. Patrick's school.

Mrs. M. Peterson and children of Kansas City, who have been visiting Mrs. S. Woodard, returned home Thursday.

RESULT OE CONFERENCE

Ex-Gov. Folk Instrumental in Settling Difference Between State Officials and Company Advisors.

The fire insurance companies will not quit the state, according to an understanding reached Thursday at Jefferson City. The following dispatch from that city says:

Judge Thomas Bates of Chicago, attorney for the fire insurance companies which had threatened to withdraw from the state as a result of the recently enacted anti-trust law, will advise the companies to remain in the state, and Attorney General Barker will then dismiss the suits filed against them.

This was the understanding reached late Thursday afternoon after protracted conferences between Judge Bates, Gov. Major, Gen. Barker, Superintendent Insurance Revelle, and former Gov. Joseph W. Folk, representing St. Louis business interests.

Attorney General Barker said:

"I am willing to notify the insurance agents throughout the state and the public that actuarial bureaus may be established and that the mere fact that any two companies or more use the same rate or rate sheet is no violation of the law. All prosecuting attorneys of the state will be notified to the same effect, and instructed that no prosecution shall be instituted against the companies on this account, and if any prosecution is instituted contrary to my opinion, I will direct a dismissal of the same."

The companies must return to the state before the case in the supreme court is submitted by Barker, which will be in twenty days.

It is believed now that the controversy between the state officials and the 185 fire insurance companies, cited to appear in the supreme court to answer charges of having violated the anti-trust laws, is at an end. The companies are expected to return to business in Missouri within the next ten days.

Former Gov. Joseph W. Folk is the medium, apparently, who has brought about an understanding between the companies and the state officials. He was selected by the business men of St. oLuis to look after the interests of the insured of that city.

AFTER AN INTERURBAN.

Stanberry Wants Line to St. Joseph—Savannah Line Will Be Extended to Maryville?

Stanberry and Empire City are after an interurban line to St. Joseph and these towns have indicated that those parties benefited will contribute a right-of-way and free terminal facilities at Stanberry. Stanberry and Empire City want the route to be laid out so as to take in Avenue City, Rochester, Flag Springs and Empire Prairie along the old Butler route, surveyed several years ago, and from Empire Prairie to Stanberry along whatever route seems most practicable.

In addition to this line, the street railway company at St. Joseph is talking of extending the present line to Savannah through Fillmore and as far as Maryville and Tarkio. When Frank Freuhoff of the Doherty company which owns the St. Joseph street railway, was in that city recently, he said he believed the extension of the Savannah line was only a matter of time and that his company favored running the line as far as Maryville or Tarkio, instead of stopping it at Fillmore as originally discussed.

Miss Mary Fordyce went to Pierce City, Mo., but will stop at Barnard and to her sister, Mrs. Dora Seifert.

A GREAT ENTERTAINMENT.

Closing Program of St. Patrick's Parish School Most Elaborate of the Kind Given Here.

The Sisters of St. Patrick's parish school, who arranged the program and drilled the children and young people who gave the entertainment at the Empire theater Thursday night, which marked the closing of the school year, may well feel proud of its result. It was the most elaborate school program that has been presented here.

Nearly every seat in the theater was occupied and the hearty applause that greeted the performance of the children was abundant evidence of satisfaction on the part of the audience.

The program, as it appeared in last Saturday's Daily Democrat-Forum was given in that order. It would be impossible to go through and tell all the good things about each number and how well each performed his part from the oldest to the least little tot, without taking up a whole page of the Democrat-Forum, for each descrved special mention.

The boys' Merry-Making minstrels have put the Elks' minstrels forever in the shade, unless the Elks wake up and get a decided hustle on themselves. And those little Irish paddies were without doubt the cutest things ever, unless it was those darling little girls in motion song, "I'd Like to Be Like Grandma," and those charming little milkmaids in "The Golden Slipper," and the lovely girls in the sash drill, and—oh, well, there is simply no place to stop when once you begin to tell about it.

One hundred little children and young people had places on the program, and the costuming for the various things presented, many appearing in three different costumes, were excellently appropriate and gracefully worn, and the part decidedly well taken.

Good musical talent was displayed in all the piano selections, and there were several pieces of high merit.

The playing of the little operetta, "The Golden Slipper," pleased everyone, the part taken by little Miss Lucile Cummins being especially difficult and meritorious. Every character in "The Golden Slipper" was presented so well that expressions of surprise and pleasure were heard from everyone.

GARMENT FACTORY WOULD DOUBLE NUMBER OF EMPLOYES.

BUSINESS IS GROWING

Factory Has Given Employment to Large Number of Women and Wants Still More.

The McDonald garment factory of this city would like to double their capacity and is greatly in need of fifty more girls. At the present time, the factory has about fifty in their employ.

The garment factory has given profitable employment to a large number of young women in Maryville for several years and the weekly pay roll of these young women is quite a factor in Maryville business life. The work is remunerative and is not overtaxing, as is easily seen by the generally strong, happy and presperous appearance of all who are employed there. That the capacity of the factory is to be doubled is a good indication that the young women who are employed in this busy place are making the establishment one of the strongest business institutions in our city, for such it has proven to be.

THE CHINCH BUG.

Now is Not the Time to Save the Wheat From the Bug—How to Control Them.

In a bulletin issued by L. Hasemen of the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station, he says:

"Now is not the time to save the wheat from the chinch bug. Last summer when the bugs moved from the ripe wheat to the corn was the time for the first stroke, and if that had been followed by burning in the winter when the bugs were collected in their winter quarters, the wheat and corn crops would be safe from chinch bug damage this year. Wheat fields badly infested at this time will produce but little, if any, wheat, and in many cases stock might as well be turned in and make use of it for pasture.

"There is a parasitic plant which attacks and destroys the bug. This is what produces the well known "cinch bug disease," and when weather and moisture conditions are just right it works like a charm, but seldom in time to save the wheat. The spores of this disease are always present in every soil. As soon as weather conditions become just right the disease will start up and make quick work of the chinch bugs. With the first change in the weather, however, the disease will die out as suddenly as it started and the chinch bug is safe. There is absolutely no use of distributing diseased bugs because as soon as they are turned out in the open the disease disappears, except under the proper weather conditions, and if the weather conditions are right for the disease, there is no need of distributing it, for it is already present. For this reason the state government workers no longer send out diseased bugs, having found out that it is simply a waste of energy.

"At this late date the best we can do is to prepare to save the crops of next year. Clip out the following cautions and paste "Caution No. 1" in your calendar at the end of the month of June or the first of July and "Caution No. 2" on the November or December page.

"Caution No. 1. The bugs will crawl from the wheat fields into corn about the first of July. Be prepared to use a dust strip, or ditch and log, as a barrier, and in case of rain, run a line of tar or road oil in front of them as a barrier. Find out at once where and how long it will take to get the tar or oil. This will save the corn and help much to save next year's crops.

"Caution No. 2. Next winter after the first heavy freezes the bugs will be found collected in woods, fence rows, scattered straw, and more especially in pastures and waste lands overgrown with heavy grasses and weeds. Select a warm, dry day when the wind is low and burn over such places. Join with your neighbors; it is too big a job for one man to attempt. The Missouri College of Agriculture, Columbia, Mo., will be glad to supply information as to the methods employed during the summer and fall in fighting the chinch bug."

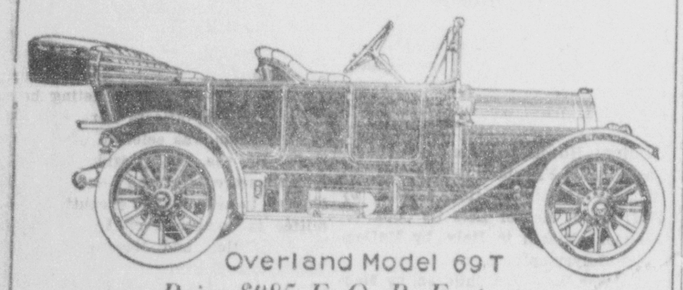
Getting the Most Out of Life

TIME used to be when the farmer disliked the automobile and did his best to discourage its use.

Today more automobiles are bought by farmers than any other single class.



Overland Model 69T
Price $985 F. O. B. Factory

It was found that the automobile encourages farming, because it brings the city and the country closer together. It keeps the boys on the farm.

It enables the farmer to inspect larger areas of producing land.

He transports his seeds and plants more quickly than before; he superintends the work of his farmhands when his time used to be occupied elsewhere.

The automobile allows the use of the horses for other work. When the horses are exhausted, the automobile is ready for further duty. Perhaps in a pleasure way.

Trips to the town stores, which formerly occupied a day, become a matter of a few hours.

Cattle raisers, rice and cotton growers, fruit producers and grain farmers evrywhere use the automobile whereby secure advantages that they could not have had ever once having enjoyed them.

In any other agency the automobile helps the whole family to get the most out of life, to do more within a given time. And, therefore, to get more for them than it costs.

Come and take a look at it—take a ride, if you have already bought one. Compare notes and draw your own conclusions. That's fair.

How Many Tons of Rain?

According to the Skidmore New Era, Theo. Gwinn's rain gauge shows two and one-fourth inches of rain on last Friday and Saturday and he has figured out what that amount of rain meant in gallons or pounds on one acre of ground. Mr. Gwinn says:

"One acre contains 160 square rods, or 43,560 square feet, reduced to square inches and then multiplied by two and one-fourth will give 14,112,440 cubic inches, which if divided by 231, the number of cubic inches in one gallon, would be 61,097 gallons. Multiply this by eight, the number of pounds in one gallon, and you will have 488,776 pounds, or nearly 245 tons of water on one acre." It is surprising, isn't it? But a little figuring will show you that an ordinary rainfall means a whole lot of water on one acre of ground.

FASCINATING HAIR.

Easy to Stop Hair Falling Out, and Dandruff Also.

No one doubts that it is the duty of every woman to look as charming as possible. Every woman knows why she wants to be beautiful and attractive.

A woman with scant hair, dull and lifeless, has lost half her charm. How many times have we heard the expression "the crowning glory of a woman is her hair."

Nowadays, thanks to Parisian Sage, almost every woman can have hair so radiant and so glorious that it attracts, fascinates and compels admiration.

Parisian Sage, the scientific and ideal hair rejuvenator and tonic, will cause hair to grow. It will turn harsh, withered hair into lustrous and bewitching luxuriant hair in a few days.

It is a most delightful hair dressing that kills the dandruff germs, stops falling hair, and eradicates dandruff in two weeks, or your money back.

A large 50 cent bottle is sold by the Koch Pharmacy and dealers everywhere on the money back plan.—Advertisement.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any first class druggist under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

BARNARD ITEMS.

Grandpa Rasco left Wednesday to make a few days' visit in St. Joseph.

The commencement exercises of the rural schools of Grant township, held at the M. E. church, was well attended Wednesday evening. The program, though almost wholly of home talent, was first class all the way through. Professor Oakerson was on hand and gave us a splendid talk.

Mr. John R. Turner will no longer have to be tossed about by a rattling wagon, nor have to yell himself hoarse at the stubborn mules, nor yet waste his precious time on the road, for he has a new automobile. Good for you, John R.

Rev. W. E. Royston left on the Wednesday morning train for St. Joseph, where he had a young couple awaiting his arrival for matrimonial purposes.

The meeting will continue indefinitely.

SEE and TRY a DE LAVAL Cream Separator

We do not believe that a farmer who knows anything about farm machinery could be induced to buy any separator other than a De Laval after he had seen the latest improved De Laval machine and had given it a trial.

It is a fact that 99% of all separator buyers who do SEE and TRY a DE LAVAL machine before buying, purchase the DE LAVAL and will have no other. The 1% who do not buy the DE LAVAL are those who allow themselves to be influenced by some other consideration besides real genuine separator merit.

If you are thinking about buying a cream separator we will consider it a favor if you will permit us to set up a De Laval for you on your own place and have you give it a fair trial.

You will be under no obligation to buy the machine if it does not make good all our claims, and should you decide to keep it and cannot conveniently pay cash, you may do so on such easy terms that it will actually save its cost while you are paying for it.

HOUSE PASSES TARIFF BILL

Underwood Revenue Measure Carries by Vote of 281 to 139.

EFFORTS TO AMEND FUTILE.

Washington, May 9.—The Underwood tariff bill, proclaimed by the Democratic party as the answer to its platform pledge to revise the tariff downward, was passed by the house. The vote was 281 to 139, five Democrats voting against the bill and two Republicans voting for it. Four Progressives supported the measure and fourteen opposed it, while one independent Progressive joined with the majority.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote in loud tones that revealed his satisfaction, exuberant Democrats hoisted a stuffed donkey over the heads of their colleagues in the rear of the chamber. A faint ripple of applause followed and the gavel fell on the first chapter in the history of President Wilson's extra session of congress.

With the bill on its way to the senate, there was a rush of representatives for their homes. In the house adjournment will be taken at a time beginning next week until June 1.

Fight Bill to Last.

Republicans and Progressives, led by Mann and Murdock, protested to the last against the measure, the lowest tariff bill ever written.

Republicans who voted for the bill were Cary and Stafford of Wisconsin. Democrats who opposed it were Broussard, Dupre, Lazaro and Morgan of Louisiana and C. B. Smith of New York. Progressives who voted for the bill were Kelly and Rupley of Pennsylvania, Nolan of California and Bryan of Washington. Kent of California, formerly a Republican, but now an independent Progressive, also voted for the bill. Progressive Leader Murdock and thirteen of his Progressive followers voted with the minority.

The Nebraska delegation split squarely, the Democrats voting for the measure and the Republicans against. Iowa came along with the same condition, with South Dakota and Wyoming voting solidly against the measure.

Today the tariff fight shifts from the house, with its overwhelming Democratic majority, to the senate, where the party's slim majority of six already has been reduced, as far as this bill is concerned, to four. Unless senators familiar with the progress of such legislation are mistaken there is now little prospect of a final vote on the bill before Aug. 1.

The bill's passage through the senate will be fought at every step by a Republican organization. Leaders of the Democrats in the senate finance committee, which will handle the bill, expressed the belief that it would go through in practically the same form as it passed the house and that their small majority will stand firm to the last.

Democratic leaders acknowledge that the two senators from Louisiana will not accept the sugar schedule and that they might be willing to combine with others to defeat the whole bill.

Republicans who are interested in beating the bill and who have canvassed those Democrats who looked at all doubtful agreed that they had but little hope of success and that with the exception of two senators from Louisiana they cannot count upon a single vote.

Senator Smoot will offer amendments to every schedule in the bill.

MOORE DENIES HE IS SLAYER

Alleged Murderer of Twenty-five With Axe Asserts Innocence.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 9.—Henry Lee Moore, convicted in Columbia several months ago of having killed his mother and grandmother with an axe, and who now is serving a ninety-nine-year sentence in the prison here, denies that he ever killed any one in his life.

He denied all knowledge of any families that were killed with an axe in Iowa, Kansas and Colorado.

It is evidenced that most of his life was spent in Missouri. He admits having worked for a farmer in Iowa several years ago, but says the farmer and his wife are living. Moore was living at Moberly, Mo., when accused of the murder of his relatives in Columbia.

Tells Mothers What to Do for Delicate Children.

"My fourteen-year-old daughter was very thin and delicate. She had a bad cough so that I became very much alarmed about her health. She was nervous and did not sleep well, had very little appetite and doctors did not help her. Having heard so much about Vinol, I decided to give it a trial. It has helped her wonderfully. She can sleep all night now without coughing once, in fact her cough is gone. Her appetite is greatly improved and she has gained in weight. Vinol is a wonderful medicine and I will always keep it in the house. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children."—Mrs. Wm. Archer, Long Branch, N. J.
